Universal Weather and Aviation (Booth No. 337) announced that its UVair unit continues to add fuel specialists dedicated to servicing requests of Europe-based operators. The fuel experts reside in and cover the European bizav fuel market. The team began with Steve Woods, the UVair fuel manager for the European region. Last year Yeet Jones, UVair fuel consultant, joined Woods to concentrate solely on Europe. Craig Scolding recently joined the team as the UVair fuel coordinator for the region. ■
